

Biography:

Robin Perry, Owner, Robin Perry and Associates

Robin is an independent Oil Spill, Environmental and Crisis Management Consultant. His career includes 16 years in the Royal Navy including senior aviation appointments and ship command. He spent 17 years in the oil industry with Shell and BP, 8 years as an independent consultant and for five years has held senior positions with the SEACOR group of companies. As General Manager of Oil Spill Response, Southampton he led responses to oil spills and other incidents worldwide. He developed response plans, organized and conducted numerous training seminars and full-scale drills for major corporations and government agencies. He played significant roles in such major oil spill incidents as the Sea Empress, UK; Braer, Shetland; Mega Borg, Galveston; First Gulf War, Kuwait; Kirki, Australia; and the Limburg terrorist attack, Yemen.

He has extensive operational response and facility management experience, not only in Southampton but also as the Managing Director of SEACOR Environmental Services Middle East where he established a major international response oil spill and HAZMAT base in the UAE.

Robin is a highly regarded consultant and speaker in the field of oil spill response and preparedness who has presented over 21 papers at international conferences. He is an experienced trainer to executive command level in oil spill response, marine emergencies and crisis management. He has organized and directed major national, international and company marine emergency, oil and HAZMAT spill exercises on a world wide basis

